

Web Accessibility for Let-it:

1. By entering the website "https://let-it.net/", you enter the main "Home" page.
2. On the main "Home" page you can find information related to the platform, what is our vision and mission and how "Let-it" makes your life easier.
3. In the header of the page, you can find different web destinations, such as "Psychotherapists" and "Schedule a meeting", which takes you to the same location as "Psychotherapists", where you can view our psychotherapists and choose the one that suits your needs. The "Blog" option takes you to a new location, where you can view blogs related to psychotherapy and mental health topics.

4. When you select the "Psychotherapists" option, you will be able to choose your own psychotherapist. Each of our psychotherapists has their own unique trait, specialty and approach, and for every type of problem there will be someone to help you.

More about Marija Bekic

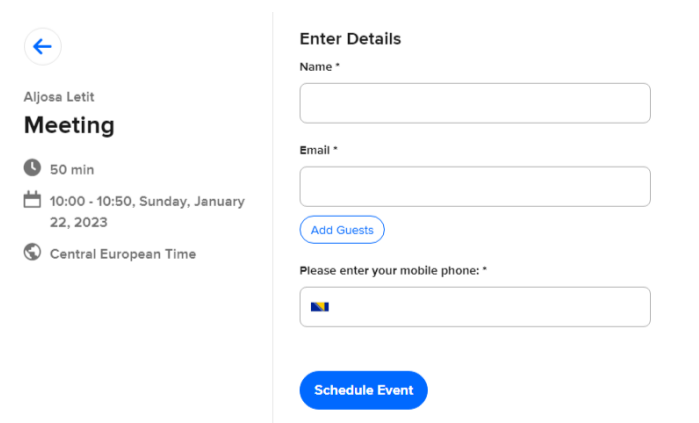

Hello, I am Marija, a highly qualified gestalt psychotherapist. Congratulations on taking the courageous first step toward creating peace, fulfillment, growth and happiness for yourself! As a gestalt psychotherapist, over the past 12 years, I have been specializing in individual, couple, and family therapy. I welcome all individuals regardless of race, gender, religion, or sexual preference. It would be my honor and privilege to help you on your journey, no matter how smooth or bumpy it might be, by providing you with the necessary support in a safe, encouraging, and empathetic environment. Like most of us, I have personally experienced life challenges, from anxiety to trauma and loss - all of which have contributed to my compassionate and warm approach to helping my clients. Therapy is a collaborative effort and I enjoy guiding clients to identify their own strengths and abilities. During the sessions, you can expect a compassionate, collaborative, safe and direct approach. We will work together to understand and set your goals. I will help you uncover deeper insights that drive the way you feel, your thoughts, and your actions, and I will help you develop new skills and adopt strategies and tools to eventually move ahead on your own toward a healthier and happier life. My areas of expertise include: stress, anxiety, relationship issues, family conflicts, divorce and separation, parenting issues, coping with life changes, grief, self-esteem, depression, and coping with life changes.

6. By selecting "Schedule meeting" on the profile of your psychotherapist, a calendar opens where you can see the availability of this psychotherapist by days and hours.

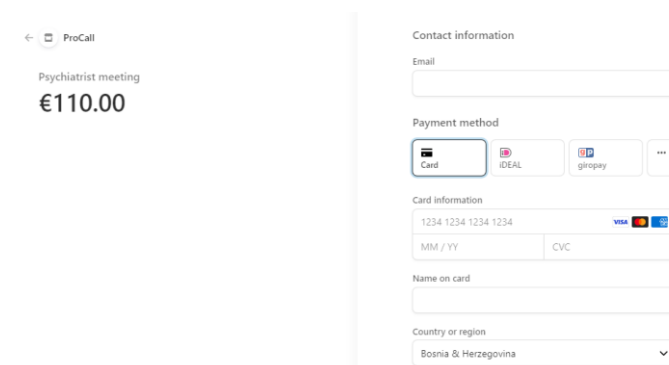

7. Once you have selected the session date and time, press "Confirm" and it will take you to the next step.

8. In this step, you need to fill in all the information on the screen: First and last name, e-mail and phone number.

9. On the next step, you need to choose a payment method and fill in the payment information.

10. After you have successfully completed the payment, a message will be sent to your email address with information about the meeting you have just successfully booked.
